Arthur Lukasiewicz

"Once you are connected and have an understanding of the energy around you, you can heal."

Since being introduced to energy healing, Arthur has shifted his life 180°. Arthur started with the knowledge of an acupuncture physician, which provides a unique skill set when used in combination with energy work. Arthur is blessed with intuitive insight that allows him to fine-tune individual treatments of energy and light connections therapy, so you notice efficient and effective changes within your healing journey.

Every person reacts differently to energy work. Arthur employs a custom approach with each patient. Throughout Arthur's years of practice, he has found that gradual, gentle guidance helps build a relationship of trust, so clients can truly transform their lives for the better.

People who may have "tried it all" on the search for healing, find Arthur to be an end to the search. Arthur will guide you to heal yourself physically, emotionally, and mentally. Affording you the space for a happy life full of joy and love.
